WHO IS DR. DUCHARME?

As a change maker, Dr. Julie Ducharme has dedicated her career to empower and support people in their endeavors and dreams. People from all over, including the corporate sector and those returning to the workforce, have taken the advice and guidance of Dr. Julie and learned how to use their strengths to maximize their work/life success. Her unique speaking style ignites the passion inside us all and makes that tiny spark into a blaze of empowerment.

Since earning her MBA and Doctorate degrees in business and organizational leadership, Dr. Julie has become a national best selling author, recognized by INC magazine, hosts a podcast, numerous TV appearances with CBS, ABC, and Fox, a professional public speaker, and a serial entrepreneur. Her book Leading by my Ponytail: Why Can't I Wear Pink and Be the President was named by INC Magazine, the top 60 leadership books for women.

Dr. Julie is passionate about our nation's veterans and her most recent venture is the start of a 501(c)3 Synergy Learning Institute. This nonprofit provides one of a kind courses such as "Combat Boots to Heels" for veteran's transitioning from their military careers to the civilian workforce. This program is offered free to all veterans. Portions of Dr. Julie's speaking fees go directly to the program and the veterans.
